ANNUAL

REPORT

ANNUAL REPORT.

We hereby present the Thirty-seventh Annual Report of the Managers of the Brooklyn Industrial School Association and Home for Destitute Children.

We have little to offer that is new, and we fear lest the repetition of that which is so familiar and full of interest to us may prove wearisome and monotonous to those not so actively engaged in the work. There is little change other than that of growth and a regular advancement along the lines by which we keep pace with the requirements of the age; therefore the account which we render of our appointed work varies little from year to year. It is only repeating the old story of human suffering, of sin and sorrow, and of the misery entailed upon the children in consequence.

Ours is the attempt of Christian Women to alleviate this wretchedness by gathering these children to clothe and feed them, and through the instrumentality of Industrial Schools to give them an opportunity to acquire so much of a common school education as may enable them to stand erect without leaning for support upon others. Experience teaches us that is no easy task, for many are heavily weighted, alas, with hereditary sins and warped as to their moral sense from their infancy.

If we find but sluggish advancement and slow development, we can at least feel that the endeavor has been faithfully made to prepare the soil in these little hearts for the sowing of the good seed and leave the plants, as does the good gardener, to God's sunshine. We may for our encouragement observe that some plants in the natural world mature slowly and do not bloom until late in the season, but the florist makes allowance for the order of their coming, and is not disappointed on account of their autumnal blossoming.

While our work has been the same as it was last year, we find a delightful change in the facilities for carrying it on which we gain through the newly completed wing. Last year we announced that the carpenters had begun the work; to-day we throw open our new building for inspection. We have entered upon its possession and find it, shall we say, all that we could desire? No family entering a new home but could suggest some alterations, yet we find it roomy and convenient, and we hear constant expressions of satisfaction that the children are made more comfortable by its capaciousness.

The older managers can recall the high, narrow building, first known as "The Home." It was contracted and inconvenient and was crowded when a hundred children were gathered in it. It was in 1862 that that building was completed. At that date there were fifty-one managers, and collections were taken for its support in twenty churches. The annual report for that year gives the number of children in the Home as twenty-eight. The Treasurer at that time, Miss Ellen Thurston, reports $6,194.63 in the treasury. To-day there are two hundred and twenty-six managers on this Board who take up collections from fifty-eight churches, and there have been four hundred and forty children in the Home during the year. Mrs. Spelman, our present Treasurer, gives us as the amount expended during this fiscal year, more than $66,000. It must be borne in mind that the number of children here given does not include those who attend the outside schools, but has reference strictly to those who have been in the Home.

We feel that this regular growth is a seal of approval upon the work, and with thankful hearts to the Great Giver of all good gifts, we enter into possession of what has been provided with the earnest desire to be faithful to our trust, and with the prayer that our Heavenly Father will guide us and give us the wisdom that is needed to carry on this work.

As we invite you to inspect our new building we call your attention to some of the conveniences by means of which we shall labor to better advantage. The basement rooms provide accommodations much needed for laundry purposes. There are two large industrial rooms; one a work-room for the boys and the other for the girls. A large play-room for the boys occupies nearly the whole of one story.

The committee room can accommodate all the managers at the regular meetings of the Board. The smaller room, intended as an annex in case it should be required, is for the present used as a school room.

There is a quarantine room for children when first admitted, and on the story above, a large dormitory for girls, while several smaller chambers can be used for teachers, nurses and caretakers.

It is for the hospital appointments, however, even more than elsewhere, that we have reason to congratulate ourselves. There, apart from contact with the other children, those who are sick can have quiet and comfort. There are two of these hospital rooms, one for contagious diseases, and the other for the ordinary cases of illness. A small kitchen gives the nurse the means of cooking for the sick, and a separate staircase outside of the building affords complete isolation from the hospital for contagious diseases.

In the furnishing of the new building friends came forward most willingly and kindly to assist.

The hospital beds, bedding, chairs and tables were provided through the generosity of Mrs. Richard Young, for many years a Manager on this Board, and one whose heart and purse are ever open in response to the appeal of Christian philanthropy.

The Misses Thurston, long associated with this charity, and from its organization numbered among its most generous friends, met the bills for carpeting the committee rooms.

Mrs. Rogers Maxwell added to her many other gifts and the long-continued kindness of the family by presenting the chairs used in the committee room.

Mrs. F. E. Taylor presented the carved mantel-piece and the handsome mirror above it. We should not have been justified in purchasing these beautiful things from the Building Fund, but as a gift they are very acceptable and add greatly to the appearance of the room.

There have been other gifts promised which will be sent in later; they have not been presented in time for mention in the annual report of this year.

Not least among the gifts contributed to the new committee room we would call your attention to the clock upon the mantel-piece. It is the gift of our boys. The little fellows wanted to place here some tangible expression of their kindly feeling and gratitude. How to do it was the problem that confronted them, for when the very pockets in their little jackets were provided by the ladies how should they get any money! They verified the old proverb, "Where there is a will there is a way." Fortunately they had brains although they had no money. They had been amusing themselves on rainy days by repeating an allegorical representation given some time before for the benefit of the Home. They practiced it among themselves in playtime and invited the Managers at the next meeting to witness the performance. Shrewd little lads! Then they passed round the hat! What kind loving mother-heart could refuse the appeal? Certainly not one of our Home ladies! When the money was counted the little cap was found to contain fifteen dollars, and behold the result—there is the clock!

Just here we ask your forbearance as we pause a moment to dwell on this little episode. Patriotism and devotion to our national flag was the theme predominating. Dulce et decorum est pro patria mori, was the spirit of their performance. That patriotic principles should be inculcated, no one can doubt, and this was such an innocent, childish patriotism, that we could not but be moved by it. And then they were so anxious to please, and to show their gratitude that the ladies were pleased! Was it any wonder that, despite the exceeding crudeness of their rendering of historical incidents, the ludicrous simplicity of their acting, and the excess of dramatic enthusiasm when they alluded to the stars and stripes, was it any wonder, we ask, that, amid the applause and the laughter, there were also tears for our little heroes!—tears because we were touched that they had tried so hard to please! that they were so anxious to give their mite toward the furnishing of the Home!

The number of children at present in the Home is two hundred and seventy-seven (277). This includes the one hundred and fifty-one (151) who are county wards. We have been informed that in some of the institutions in which the dependent children of the county are placed, they do not include in the term county wards, those children who are sent by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, nor those who are committed by the police courts and paid for by the Supervisors. We include under the term county wards every child who is paid for from the county funds.

During the past year there have been 440 children in the Home for a greater or less period of time.

The rules for the admission of children are appended to this report in the printed manual, as are also the number of children, and other statistics relating to the schools of this Association.

Beside the school in the Home, there are five other schools in the neglected portions of the city, supported by the funds which the Managers collect, and which are supervised by committees from this Board. These schools differ from the one in the Home, in that, while the children attend school and have their dinner, they return home at night. The children receive entire suits of new clothing in December, on the first day of the Annual Fair, and clothing is given after this by the School Committees, if it is deemed advisable.

Three of the schools have suitable and convenient buildings ; School No. 1, No. 3 (at the Home), and School No. 6.

No. 2, No. 4, and No. 5 are without convenient school rooms, and have everything to contend against. How the work is harassed and hampered, only those know who struggle to make the work a success amid all these difficulties. If our citizens would only realize that in spending money to save these little wanderers in the streets, they are taking from the criminal classes and adding to our working people, perhaps we should not have to plead yearly for comfortable quarters in which to gather the children to be taught. We believe that it saves many a little lad and many a bright little lassie to be surrounded by the arms of Christian love, before they are old enough to begin a career of crime. The penitentiary, the poor-house and the jail are almost in sight of our Home building, but, thank God, there are churches standing between, and let us hope we may receive that help from the churches that may enable us to gather in the children before their little feet turn into the roads that lead them into those penal institutions, or into the wretchedness of pauperism.

The schools have done good work during the past winter as reference to the statistics appended will show. There have been changes as to teachers and matrons, but the work is the same as in former seasons.

There are forty-two children in the nursery of the Home. Owing to increased accommodations, we have this season annexed another room to the large nursery. This will give more space for the little ones to play. The ladies on Nursery Committee, ever watchful over the interests of their little charges, signified their desire to have this change made when the new wing was planned and this spring they have eagerly taken possession of their new quarters.

For nearly two years, or, to be explicit, from March, 1889, to January, 1891, no death occurred among the children in the Home. This is certainly a remarkable record, for, although children are never admitted by the physicians in attendance without a thorough examination, and those who show signs of disease are not allowed admission, yet still there are many who are delicate, who have weak constitutions, and have suffered in many ways from their infancy. These, upon being admitted by the certificate of the physician, are always cared for after this in our hospital if taken sick. It was at one time reported that there were some children ill in the County Hospital who had been sent there from this Home. We should have no right to speak of the health of the children here, if we sent away those who were taken sick under our care. We, therefore, took pains to investigate the truth of this report and were gratified to find that the sick children had never been in the Home but were of the number who had been refused by the physician on account of the very disease from which they were suffering in the County Hospital and which might have been communicated to the rest had these been admitted. One of the children who had been placed by the commissioners in the County Hospital for some ophthalmic trouble was sent to the Home as being cured, but the disease broke out afresh and the child was sent back. It was with the deepest regret we found in December last that an epidemic of measles of a severe type had broken out in the Home. This was particularly to be regretted, because many of the children were just recovering from whooping cough. Thirty-nine of the little ones had the measles; that only five of these died shows that they had the best of medical care and good nursing. Those who died were nursery children whose weakened constitutions had barely been able to contend against whooping cough and who were subject to croup. Last year we joyfully recorded the fact that death had not taken a single one from this little flock, but Rachel weeping for her children was the sad experience in many a home this past winter where this type of measles entered. Here, where so many little ones are gathered, we could scarcely expect immunity from similar suffering.

It would be unjust in this connection to forbear mention of the kindness and watchfulness of the Matron during the prevalence of this sickness. So fearful was she that weariness might overcome the nurse when the hour came for giving medicine, that she herself took her turn to watch by the sick beds and left her other duties to insure all the relief that could be given to those who were suffering.

The Chairman and others on the Hospital Committee also risked contagion rather than not judge from actual observation if the children had everything which it was in their power to give.

During the past year family homes have been found for seventeen children. In some instances children have been returned from these places to the Home for various reasons. It is a curious fact, and yet it is not infrequent, that a child may be returned by one family and sent to some other home will give entire satisfaction. Nay more, a child may be returned to the Home many times and yet finally obtain a situation where both the child and the family are perfectly satisfied with each other and are mutually happy.

Besides those placed out by the Managers, other of the children have been placed by their parents in homes which have been obtained by the Managers ; this is preferable, for where the parents are willing to provide for their children there is no need that others should do so.

One boy has been sent to a home through the New York Children's Aid Society ; he was a child whose restless energy required a wider range than institution life could give ; he was not satisfied under restraint of any kind and his example was such as to demoralize the boys who were younger than he ; he may develop into a good citizen if thrown upon his own resources and we hope even yet to hear good news from him in the locality where there is fuller scope for the exercise of all his faculties.

Industrial work among the children is still continued, although not so much in the line of Kitchen Garden instruction as on previous years owing to the state of confusion in which the Home naturally was thrown in annexing the new building to the old. The brush making, however, has been regularly taught and also the use of tools by one who is paid to teach both boys and girls to make ornamental and fancy articles of wood.

The lady who has trained the expert little cooks of whose skill we boast, is prepared again to resume her work and is justly proud of all the appointments in her new working room. She proposes to make them feel the truth of Mrs. Browning's words : " Work after Adam was the curse, yet after Christ work turns to privilege." She will impart to them the skill and cleverness that will make their work easy and instead of living in a state of dependence their means of self support will be insured.

It seems to us as if the parents of these children were rather unreasonable at times. A mother who had not paid a cent for her boy's board for more than a year, instead of expressing any intention of paying the debt, brought the boy a present of a new toy for which she must have paid at least two dollars. Another complained that her boy was not warm enough, yet the expensive heating apparatus in the Home which gives to every room a summer glow, even in midwinter, was certainly a great contrast to her little shanty out on the commons, heated by a few cinders in a broken stove. We felt like telling her that this is no conservatory for the culture of tender flowers under costly glass to make them needlessly tender and helplessly weak. Rather it is the healthy open garden in which our hardy little plants are protected only from that which would blight and injure them. There are other parents, we are happy to say, who realize this and who do express much gratitude for the care their children receive. We consider it a more convincing proof than mere words, however, that it frequently happens that those who have, or who have had children in the Home recommend it very warmly to their friends who may be looking for similar relief. "Ours are doing so well there," they say.

The children from the Home attend regularly the Sunday-schools of Grace M. E. Church, Sixth Avenue Baptist Church, and St. John's Episcopal Church. Every Sunday morning they are present at the service at the Church of Christ, Sterling Place, unless some contagious disease at the Home makes it undesirable for them to attend.

The Managers would here acknowledge their indebtedness for the kindness that furnishes room for so many children and provides for their religious instruction.

The Managers are particularly pleased to have young people and children show their interest in this work, and many proofs of this have been given during the past season in sending to the Home, fruit, books, pictures and toys. One lovely young girl who was once in this Home, but has since been adopted by a family living in a little town near the Hudson, acknowledged her indebtedness by arranging with her young companions to share their Christmas gifts with the less favored children here. The large box of pictures, books, toys, etc., packed and directed under her personal supervision, showed her sweet Christian spirit in the desire to acknowledge and return the kindness she had received, so unlike the false shame which induces some to disown the dependence in which their childhood was spent and the fostering care here given them in their helpless years.

The children of the Managers have also been sharing the interest of their families in this work. The children of Mrs. Rogers Maxwell gathered their young friends and held a very successful Fair in the parlors of their beautiful home.

Others in various ways have shown a desire to do something for the little ones in the nursery or for the sick in the hospital, thus identifying their interest with ours in this work.

One of the Managers on this Board has been taken from us by death since our last report, and sorrow for the loss of those who were very dear to them, has come into many of the families of those who were among the most active members of the Board; the sympathy of the Managers has gone out very tenderly toward those who, even in the depth of their mourning, have yet bravely and faithfully gone on with their work.

Mrs. Hines, for almost twenty years the principal of School No. 1, died during the past year. The gentle, white-haired lady, so faithful to her duties, will long be remembered by those who visited that school. The children loved her and it was touching to see them bring their few pennies to buy some flowers to place as a token of their affection upon her coffin.

We cannot close our report without reference to the debt upon the new building. This is the first year that finds us thus burdened. We have labored assiduously to collect the amount, but we have not succeeded. We cannot feel reconciled to the fact of being in debt. Since we have been slowly raising the walls to shelter these homeless little ones, just across the street other walls have been erected, more rapidly it has seemed to our anxiety, than ours have been. Shall the builders there do more for pleasure than we can for duty?

One of Rogers' statuettes shows a mother gaining determination to act because she sees want in the face of her child; so, as we look into the faces of these dependent children, we take courage to meet the debt. It is not for ourselves that we plead, but for the children, and we remember that when such were brought to Jesus, He did not send them away.

Rules for the Admission of Children.

The regular meetings of the Board of Managers are held on the first Tuesday of every month at 10:30 A. M., at the Home.

The Executive Meetings are held on the first Tuesday of the month, at the close of the Managers' meeting, and on the third Tuesday of the month, from 10:30 A. M. to 4 P. M. Children are admitted into the home at the meetings of the Executive Board. Application to take them out of the Home must also be made at these meetings.

In cases of urgent necessity application may be made to a member of the Executive Board for the admission or dismissal of a child, subject to the action of the Board at the next meeting. The price of board for a child in the Home is four dollars per month. If the child is so young that it requires a place in the Nursery, the price of its board is five dollars. Children are taken on charity, or on partial board, when the investigating committee find that their friends have no means of paying their board. As, however, the regular payment of even four dollars per month does not pay for the expenses of clothing, educating and boarding a child, all who are admitted receive from the Association a share of their support gratis.

Children placed in the Home by the Commissioners of Charities are known as County Wards and are paid for from the county funds.

Children are received into the Home when sent by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, and provision is made for them by that Society. The first Thursday of the month is the day appointed for the visits of the children's parents and friends. It is the earnest request of the Managers that on these visits parents should not supply the children with cakes, candies and unripe fruits. The children wear the clothing provided by the Association, and none other need be supplied by their friends. The only exception to the above is as to shoes and stockings; these must be provided by their friends. A supply of shoes and stockings, purchased at wholesale, is kept in reserve at the Home; these the parents may purchase at reduced prices should they prefer to do so.

No formal application need be made for the admission of children into the schools of the Association. All may attend, and are invited to do so, provided they cannot attend the public schools ; this condition only is insisted upon. The test for admission is the need of food and clothing ; if the visitor finds that the parents are fully able to provide these, then the children are not suitable subjects for the Industrial Schools, and they must be withdrawn.

An entire suit of new clothing, including shoes, is provided for every child attending these schools ; these are made and personally fitted for every one and are given in the first week of December, on the occasion of the annual Fair. A warm dinner is daily supplied for the children at the noon recess. During holidays and vacations if the children are in need of food, bread will be supplied for them upon application through the teachers to the managers on the school committees.

A day nursery in School No. 5 gives advantages to children who without this place to leave their younger brothers and sisters, would be obliged to remain at home when their parents go out to work.

Homes in the country are found for children when required. Children are not placed out at service in the city unless at request of their friends, or when circumstances make it peculiarly desirable.

References are required from those who apply for children to be taken into their families.

When a child is placed out by indenture or otherwise, the sum of ten dollars must be sent to the Home annually after the child has reached the age of twelve years, to be placed in the bank for the benefit of the child on reaching the age of eighteen, if a girl ; or twenty-one if a boy.

If friends wish to assist by sewing for the children, application may be made at the Home to the Sewing Committee.

The Home is at all times thrown open to visitors except on Saturday and Sunday.

Applications for the admission of orphans or half orphans are referred to the Orphan Asylum Society, Atlantic street, corner of Kingston avenue, unless sufficient reasons are given why this rule should not be enforced.
